3. GAME DAY ROOFTOP EXPERIENCE - DESCRIPTION

In conducting an assessment of their physical and psychological condition and subsequent ability to safely complete the Game Day Rooftop Experience, medical practitioners should be aware that the Game Day Rooftop Experience involves the following:

- duration of approximately 90 minutes, including watching a full quarter of football from a seated platform 42m above ground;
- outdoor walking and climbing unassisted for approximately 1.25 km along industrial style walkways and stairs;
- wearing a range of supplied equipment, including a jumpsuit and security harness that weighs approximately 3kg kilograms;
- being harnessed and physically tethered to a continuous rail structure;
- negotiating approximately 2 ladders, 4 metres in height at an approximate incline of 55 degrees, with 78 steps, that individuals will be required to traverse unassisted, up and down, in both a forwards and backwards direction, to access the roof;
- the Game Day Rooftop Experience is primarily outdoors, and therefore individuals will be exposed to the prevailing weather conditions and must consider their ability to withstand exposure to sun, wind, heat and cold, save that the Game Day Rooftop Experience will not take place during inclement weather (rain, high winds, lightning, extreme temperatures); and
- there will be periodic rest stops during the Game Day Rooftop Experience, however individuals will need to be physically capable of remaining standing for the duration of the Game Day Rooftop Experience and will not have access to toilets, shade, water or seating at all times during the Game Day Rooftop Experience.
